

ELITE HUNTER PROFILE

CONGRATULATIONS TO

JACK FROST

AKA ORTHOPEDIC SURGEON DR. JOHN D. FROST

FOR HIS ACCOMPLISHMENTS

AS AN

ELITE HUNTER*

Desert Blghorn

Stone Sheep

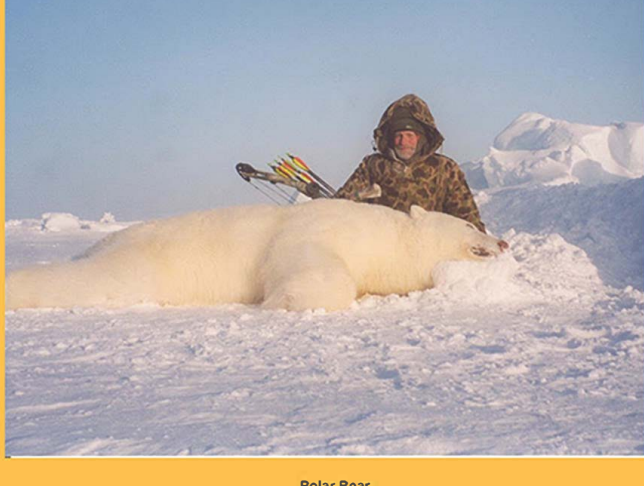

BOWHUNTER EXTRAORDINAIRE

Jack has hunted exclusively with a bow and arrow since 1980. In 1985 he became the first bowhunter to achieve the Grand Slam of North American Wild Sheep. He finished a second Grand Slam in 2014. In 2008 he became the first bow hunter to take all 29 species of North American Big Game as recognized by Pope and Young with all being listed in that record book.

Per Jack: "A good life progresses in a circle from Dreams to Memories. At the beginning, we have only Dreams, and at the end, only Memories."

SOME OF HIS WORLDWIDE BOWHUNTING ACHIEVEMENTS

Asia

In China, Jack took a Blue Sheep at 14,500 feet.

In Tajikistan, he killed a Marco Polo ram at 17,000 feet.

In Mongolia, he succeeded on Altai Ibex, Hangay Argali and Gobi Ibex in two trips.

In Pakistan, he killed a Blandford Urinal and Sindh Ibex.

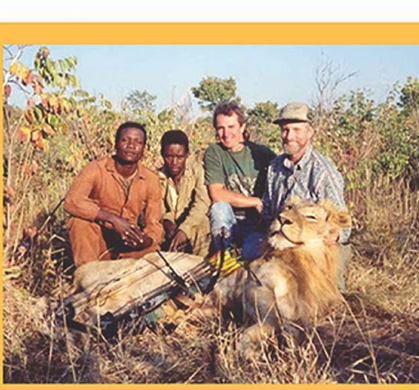

And in Azerbaijan, Jack shot an Eastem Tur on his second hunt.

Africa

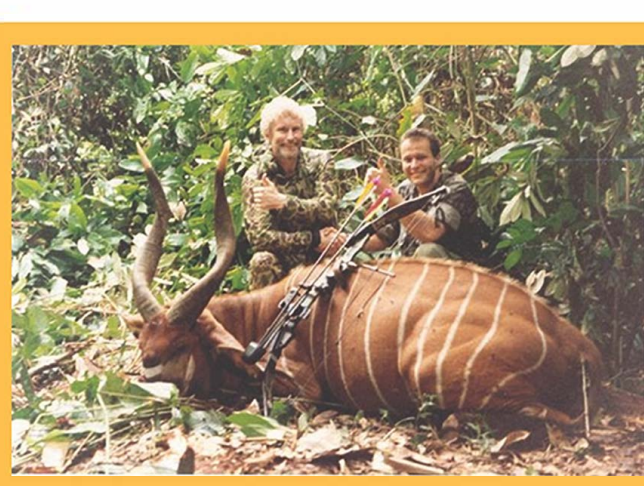

One shot kills of a male Cape Buffalo and a male Lion in Zimbabwe. And on a separate safari, he shot a 7-foot male Leopard.

In Cameroon, Jack tracked within 15 yards of a Bongo and arrowed it in the heart. Then it charged and the PH shot, so it is not counted as an official bow kill.

In Ghana, he followed a pygmy tracker with a headlamp for 9 hot, sweaty nights in search of the rare Royal Antelope. He saw one for a few seconds, but missed. That's what you call a memory!

Bongo

Europe

In two trips to Spain, he killed all 4 ibex (Becette, Gredos, Ronda, and Southeastem).

In Turkey, he killed a Bezoar Ibex on his second try.

South Pacific

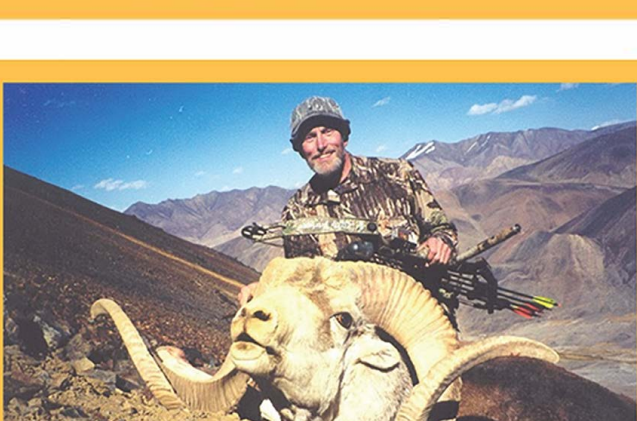

In New Zealand, Jack took a Tahr and Chamois in two trips.

And in Australia, he killed a Water Buffalo with one shot.

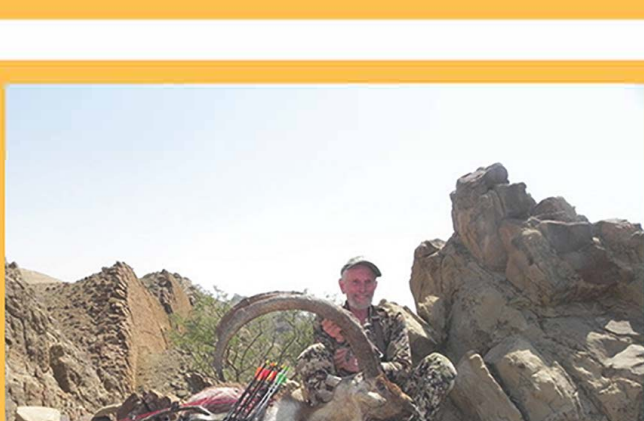

Worldwide

In 2017, he completed an Ovis World Slam with 12 species of wild sheep.

And in 2019, Jack completed a Capra World Slam of 12 species of Goat/Ibex.
